Front Cover: "The Indian Queen" a rococo watercolour design by the Bristol artist William Milton from the 1730s showing black page boys in attendance on the monarch. Milton probably designed this painting to be repainted in oils as an inn sign in the city. Black servants both free and slaves must have been regularly encountered in the early Georgian city.

Back Cover : "The Brothers" , engraved by E.Roffe from the group by C. Cordier, Art Journal 1873

Introduction

Bristol 1807 - a Sense of Place is a Heritage Lottery funded project which was managed by Bristol Libraries from October 2007 to December 2008. As part of the Abolition 200 programme the theme was an exploration of the lives of the people of Bristol in 1807. The project was successful in covering a wide range of activities including creative work with local schools, one large static exhibition and smaller touring displays, hands-on sessions with some of the rarer archives, adult learning classes and lectures.

As one of several legacy products from Bristol 1807 this list of resources builds on a select bibliography which was compiled in 1998 by Raj Lalla, Jane Bradley and Dawn Dyer as part of the support for the exhibition, 'A Respectable Trade, Bristol and Transatlantic slavery' at Bristol City Museum in 1999 which was an element in the New Opportunities Fund Port Cities project.

This original work has now been expanded and enhanced to include a wider range of reference sources from the Central Library's extensive collections and helpful annotations for some of the entries. A selection of black and white illustrations are also included.

We hope that this publication will be useful for those interested in this subject and we are grateful to Bristol 1807 for presenting us with the opportunity, a decade after this resource list was first made available, to produce this new version.

Robert Harrison, Central Library Manager

With thanks to the Heritage Lottery Fund for supporting the 1807 Project.

TEA AND SUGAR.

To get - ours as our break - fast, for we - are fit - ter, Tea
 than - and long after we meet and by our Tea Where the Oil - can give us - so to pick the leaves green, And

will them not dry them so best and so please.

And then for the sugar, why some one must go
 To the burning West Indies where sugar cane grows;
 Where the poor naked negro toils all the hot day,
 To prepare the sweet cargo in lands far away.

Then children, dear children! whenever you drink
 Your tea in the morning or evening, just think How good must the Lord be who made the wild tea,
 For ships to sail over, and bring home our tea.
