

Small Island

...the book everyone in Glasgow is talking about

RIGHT
Richard Davies, Conductor of the RSO, is attracted by Small Island whenever they meet.

MIDDLE
Peter (Clockwise), Customer Services Supervisor and James Bradley, Adult Library and Learning Coordinator at The Mitchell.

FOR LEFT
Staff and pupils at Havelock Primary School join in the Small Island Read.

LEFT
Staff and pupils at Havelock Primary School join in the Small Island Read.

MIDDLE
The Royal Scottish National Orchestra joins in the fun - the musicians can't wait to get their hands on copies.

FOR LEFT
Glasgow University students Craig Whigham and Richard Anderson reading Small Island.

RIGHT
Nancy Campbell of ICL and James Lewis of ICL at Central Library.

MIDDLE
James Hughes reading Small Island at Mitchell's Library.

FOR LEFT
Library Officers Lisa Jen and Emma Baker break from delivering a copy copies of Small Island around Glasgow.

Small Island

...the perfect holiday read

Right
Doris Wilson from Youth Services Project found reading the perfect holiday read for her long flight to China.

Middle
Doris Wilson reads to her class at McGill College, Hong Kong.

On left
Her class members of McGill College enjoy the story on the island set sea.

Left
More unusual readers pictured at Argill Carron Park, Inveraray.

Middle
Herriot reader, John the gull of Strling, Inveraray with Small Island in flight.

On left
Garden reader, Inveraray at Argill Carron Park, Inveraray with Small Island in flight.

Right
Doris Wilson of McGill College Project, Hong Kong, the book to come to Hong Kong.

Middle
A group of young people from Glasgow, Inveraray and Strling, Inveraray, reading the book to come to Hong Kong.

On left
Doris Wilson of McGill College Project, Hong Kong.

