

EQUIANO

A Touring Exhibition of an extraordinary life. From enslavement to best selling author

Equiano Family Day

Handsworth Library
Wednesday 26th March 2008
10am to 4pm

A family day of activities to celebrate the life and work of Olaudah Equiano the 'African'

Workshops will include: African Drumming, Drama, Dub Poetry, Singing, Children's Poetry, African Mask Making and Painting

All workshops will culminate in performances of the work produced and an art display. This promises to be an exciting, fun filled day for the whole family!

Places for the workshops will fill up fast and so to avoid disappointment please book a place now, by contacting:

Handsworth Library on: 0121 464 1185

- Tasty Caribbean lunch will be provided -

Handsworth Library
Soho Road, Handsworth
Birmingham B21 9DP

This Touring Exhibition is part of The Equiano Project, a partnership between The Equiano Society and Birmingham Museum and Art Gallery

RENAISSANCE
WEST MIDLANDS

Portrait: Olaudah Equiano The African: Frontispiece to 'The Interesting Narrative', 1793, copyright Local Studies: Birmingham Central Library. (detail).
Background: The Rhinebeck Panorama, copyright Museum of London